

COMPOSITION: LINES

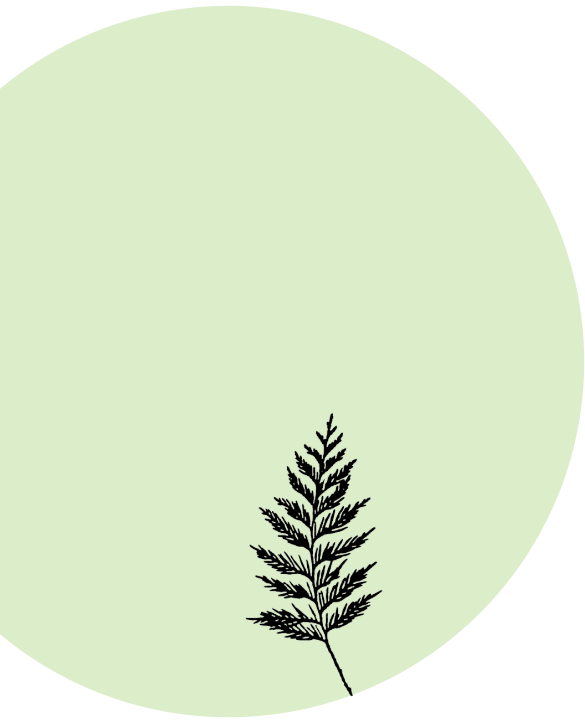

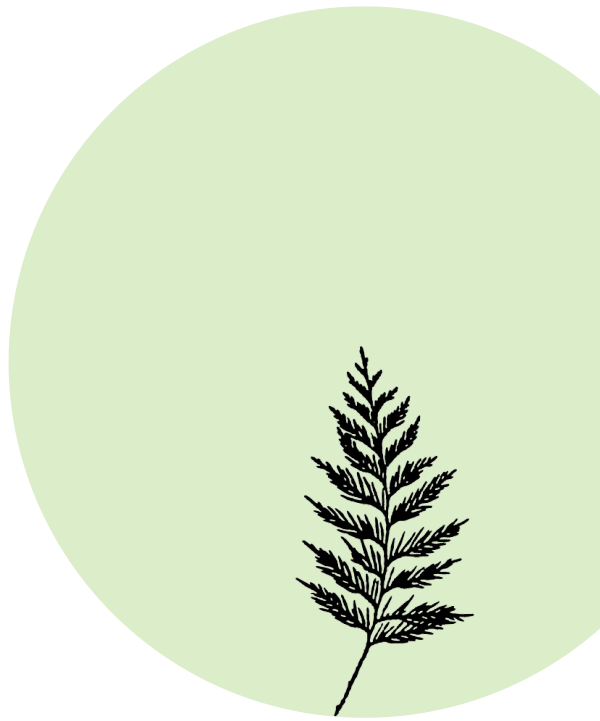

LINES:

Two or more subjects next to each other on a horizontal line create a sense of stability, calm, balance.

Two or more subjects on a vertical line create a dignified, powerful, majestic image.

DIAGONALS:

Three or more subjects on a diagonal line create an active, dramatic scene that builds tension.

CIRCLES:

Multiple subjects forming a circle create a scene that is gentle and comforting, and offers a feeling of interconnection.

LEARN MORE:

This is by no means the only way to view leading lines and shapes. Feel free to take what you want and leave the rest and/or adapt it to your personal experience.

To read more and see examples, visit the blog "Into Lines" at presenttobeauty.com.

